

EVENING`S STILLNESS

( e - minor)

1. Evening`s stillness is descending,
Thus all things on earth are moving.
morning, evening, brightness, darkness,
between having need and fullness

twilight comes, the day might shelve.
What concerns the life itself,
between our birth and death,
life turns round in steadiness.

2. Just in depths you`ll notice summits,
Only, if rough winds are blowing,
When you had been carried by the Only wise men might perceive it:

just by suffering you`ll know health.
you`ll remember worth of wealth,
better days and bliss could flow.
what breaks down, that helps to grow.

3. By problems dashing you to the ground
Things, they may inveigh against you,
All adversity of being,
May at last not be in vain,

you will increase gradually
might form your personality.
all, what contradicts to you,
granting a new sight and view.

4. Realms may come and realms may go,
Only imperturbable love
He, who`s ruling universes,
He`s presenting copious mercy,

there`s nothing, that forever gains.
sent us by God remains.
keeping power in His hand,
He will sorrows understand.

5. So lay down your weary limbs,
quiet on your resting-place.
God will always make allowance
Evenings stillness is descending,

that see this day been overcome,
Forgive yourself, what you had done.
for your slips and your mistakes.
tomorrow comes, a new day breaks.

(postlude) : [: e D C H :] several times

Text and music by Chotu 7 / 2007