```
   C                         C4        C     F              C
```
1. I`d been oppressed, humiliated and hurt, forced to bend my knees.
```
            F                     C      F            G
```
   Now I feel weak and helpless and drained   like after a disease.
```
       a          F          C           G
```
   How cruel people can be, when they gain the upper hand.
```
       d                      a        F                G
```
   With joy they beat you more and more, even though you show no defence.

2. What drives these simple minds to smile, when you suffer overwhelmed with tears?
   What a thrill they are looking for, when they see you broken by fears?
   Why don`t they show human reaction, if someone asks for aid?
```
         d                      a         F              G G4 G    A4 A
```
   Why do they like to see their victims bleeding by their tortures, beatings, blades?

Interlude: Tranposition to D-major   D – D – G – D – G – D – G – A h – G – D – A – e – a – G – A4 – A

3.There were times, I´d been cheerful, sincere and fearless guy, but after all the hurts I went through now I withdraw, but I don´t sigh..
   Caused by the henchmen of the reign of terror I lost my trust and dignity.
   I just feel distrust, resignation. Avoiding any closeness is my philosophy.

4. May be, there`s a ray of hope, that once all violence disappears in a time, when no one suffers, a time without fright and without tears.
   But I doubt, mankind is ready to learn from the past and all its mistakes,
```
       e                      h       G      D   A    D
   if you look at the violence and laws of humanity   they break.

```
       D                  G              D            A
```
   I`m forced avoiding human contact; I`ll stay alone as long as I live.
```
       e                      h       G      D   A      D
```
   My spirit and pride forever are broken, can`t change it, no, I can`t forgive.
