

I HAD UNLEARNED TO CRY AND SMILE

(D-major)

Prelude: D D2 D D2 D D2 D D2

1. I'm a business man, shareholder, Every time I take control, where-
But now I think, when I get older, success was my device.

ever it's about the price.
I got expert, but not wise.

2. All the same in any crises
To a hair my analyses,
I utilize each new wave, which rises,

nothing could dash me to the ground.
a solution I always found.
to remorse I'll never be bound.

Refrain: But after all the years of blessing, all amenities possessing,
from men I withdraw mile for mile.
Have forgotten joy and pleasures, and relationship's true treasures, had unlearned to cry and to smile. (Schluss. D D)

Interlude: D G D fis G e A h G e A4 A

3. I just know bustle and impatience,
Where's the time for contemplations?
I need love, warmth, conciliation,

fixing dates, disquiet, haste.
Don't want to be impelled and chased?
a soul, which shows rich life to taste.

Refrain: But after all the years
