

RUNNING WATER

1. You enchanted me from the first time we met.
There wasn't a moment with you that I really regret.
I knew right away you're a gift to me.
Now I live outside of reality.

2. Every morning I look forward to seeing you again.
Every second I think about how our relationship began.
I'm not able to do my properly and conscientiously.
Everything I set my mind to seems to vanish obviously.

Refrain: I can't concentrate, my thoughts revolve just on you.
I'm always with you, no matter what I do.
It doesn't stop, it happens day after day.
Like running water all my plans rush away.

3. What should I do, you're always circling in my head and wreaking havoc there, even when I'm in bed.
I cannot fixate on anything all day long.
I don't know anymore, what's right or what is wrong.
4. What should happen in the long run, I just don't know.
I feel a dependency that I really don't want to show.
I forget my obligations, my appointments and the time.
I'm no longer able to think clearly and to combine.

Refrain: I can't concentrate, my thoughts

Like running water all my plans rush away...(fading)
