

WHAT IF THERE WERE NO MORE WARS AT ALL?

- B F Ees B
1. What if there were no more wars at all, no more bombs destroying towns?
c g Ees B F
no more money for cannonballs, no drums with a fear-inducing sound?
B F Ees B
Who really likes to go to war because leaders say it has to be now?
c g Ees B F
Who really knows what he's fighting for? What's the point of the fight? What's allowed?
g F D g
And how many countless billions could be used for a good cause?
Ees B F g
The sun shine would appear in more brilliance because bombs smoke would no longer have a source.
G c F B
How much hunger could be satisfied by sowing instead of fighting for victory?
Ees B c B F
How much less misery and sleepless nights when war is banned and all people are free?

2. How much suffering brings destruction, death and loss and sea of tears.
When we stop weapon production, we could prevent exploitation and flight from fear.
Well, I've never really been able to understand why people march and risk their lives, 'cause someone's says you'll fight for your land, and they leave behind their children and wives.

Why don't people rebel and refuse? Where is the courage to resist?
They don't realize that they are being abused because a few lunatics raise their fists.
Send those to the front, where they can experience the horrors of war.
I doubt if they in the midst of battle would dare to glorify it to which they called for.
