

BUT YOUR LIGHT ONLY SHINES DURING THE DAY

Prelude: d - F - C - G - d - F - A4 A

1. You know how to convince, for people seem to follow you.
You can see they bend their knees and accept all what you do.
You found out to assert yourself, how to lead and to direct,
and you like to play with fear, you are not afraid to attack.
2. Outwardly, you appear friendly, eager to be accepted, but your tone is rude.
Sometimes at home you come across as hostile; no one is protected from your mood.
There you like to quarrel and show off, and insist that you are always right.
At home you are so unyielding, so tough, there are no kind words, no delight.

Bridge:

How you act with your inner circle, how you treat your wife, your friends, is in no case really acceptable, no one of us can understand your behavior, how you degrade all those dears standing near to you.
You often alienate your loved ones and don't even realize what you do.

Interlude: d - F - C - G - d - F - A4 A

3. But you can't always fool other people with the methods you use to treat them, my friend.
You simply follow your own rules and hope that people will accept your plans.
But in the long run, they will recognize your black side, all the dark shades of your way.
All your weak points you don't have to hide, your light only shines during the day.

End:

May be, you have found reasons for your behavior, you have always an answer for everything,
But nobody can truly hide their innermost feelings. Negative aspects will always cling.
Honesty isn't exactly your strong suit. You definitely want influence and success on your way.
You want to hide your flaws and shortcomings, but your light only shines during the day.
