

IN THE SHADOW OF FINITENESS

Prelude: A - D - A - D

A D A D A
1. In the shadow of finiteness that devours all things
 h fis h fis
fears and anxieties often spread as if on invisible wide wings.
 h fis
What will happen? What is our fate?
 h D E4 E
Can we still react or will it be too late?

2. Do we have to suffer. Can the sorrows and fright pass by?
Can we avoid it? Can we just resign and sigh?
Is the situation serious? Will it end badly or well?
Can we overcome the crises or are we already hearing our last bell?

Bridge:

A G D D A
Even if doubts arise and steel the night
 fis D E4 E
we can trust in GOD. He will be at our side.
 E D A A fis4 fis
He gives us the power not to give up, to withstand
 D A fis E4 E
all difficulties. We rely on his help that he will send.

3. We can live in exemption and work as we like to do, to think and act, to experience, to develop, to build up, to tear down and renew.
We can certainly push GOD aside and try to go our own ways, but nothing can truly separate us from his everlasting grace.

4. We are all GOD's creatures who should appreciate and enjoy life with all its wonders, for illumination we should strive.
Even if we deny it, we are all GOD's children here on earth and we all return to him to experience our rebirth.

End:

A G D D A
Even if the doubts will never end, and we cannot understand fis4 fis D E
that we are part of the huge whole, that GOD created every single soul
 D A fis
that will return to its source. No one will be left behind, and of course
one day we all will see GOD's greatness and glory in eternity.
